

Transition Planning Questionnaire

 Thinking and Planning For The Future: It's time to start thinking about what things should be planned for your transition to life after High School and written in the IEP. The best way is to think about what will help you the most to live and work where you want. Also, think about what would help you enjoy your free time.

Your family, teacher or a friend can help you with the questions. Look at the list below and place an "" next to the things you want to talk about and plan for at your IEP meeting. If you want to talk about more things, then bring it up at your meeting.
